

WordPress Theme Twenty Seventeen

Frage: Werden die im Additional CSS hinterlegten Anpassungen bei einem Theme-Update überschrieben?

Antwort: Nein, sie bleiben erhalten.

vor dem Update:

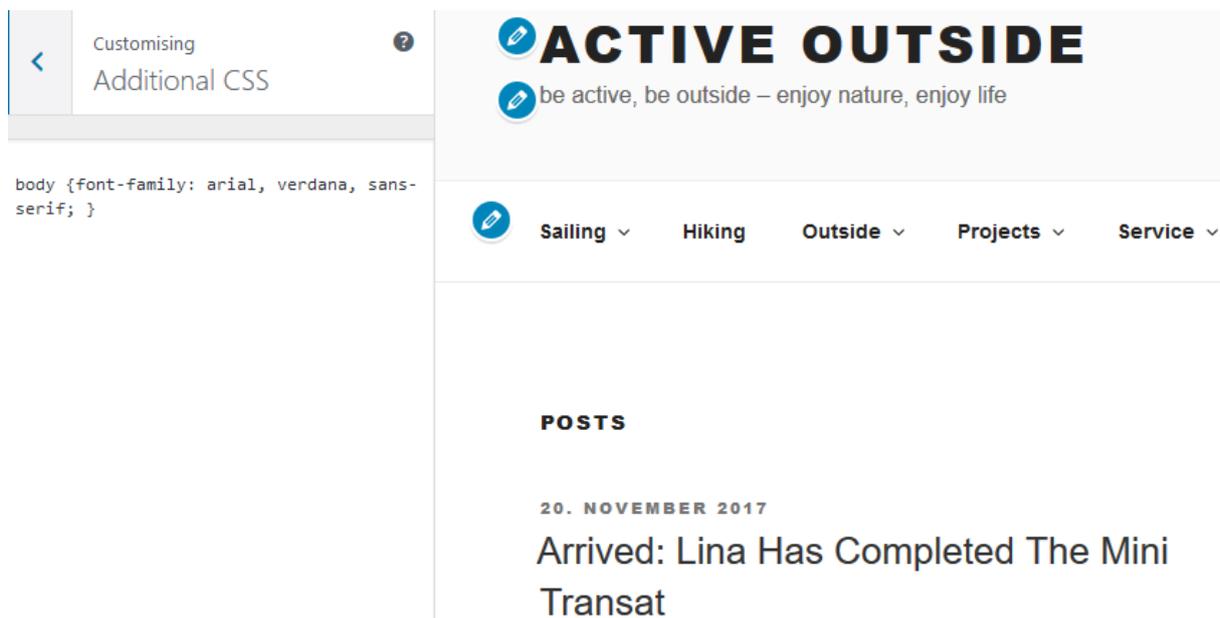

The screenshot shows the WordPress Customizer interface for the 'ACTIVE OUTSIDE' theme. On the left, the 'Additional CSS' section is active, displaying the following CSS code:

```
body {font-family: arial, verdana, sans-serif; }
```

 The main preview area shows the theme's header with the title 'ACTIVE OUTSIDE' and the tagline 'be active, be outside – enjoy nature, enjoy life'. Below the header is a navigation menu with items: Sailing, Hiking, Outside, Projects, and Service. The main content area displays a post titled 'Arrived: Lina Has Completed The Mini Transat' dated '20. NOVEMBER 2017'.

nach dem Update

This screenshot is identical to the one above, showing the WordPress Customizer for the 'ACTIVE OUTSIDE' theme. The 'Additional CSS' section on the left still contains the same CSS code:

```
body {font-family: arial, verdana, sans-serif; }

 The main preview area shows the same theme header, navigation menu, and post content as in the previous screenshot, demonstrating that the custom CSS was preserved after the theme update.
